

NOTICE!

MEETING DATE CHANGED

MAY MEETING TO BE HELD TUESDAY, JUNE 1 AT 8 P.M.

St. Paul's Church, 2430 K St., N.W.

The May meeting of the Foggy Bottom Association will introduce us to our Service Area Representative Mrs. Jacqueline Moore. Mrs. Moore has been appointed by the D.C. Government to serve as liaison between the citizens and the various government agencies. The D.C. Government representative who spoke at the last meeting was asked so many questions that it was decided to continue the session at another meeting, to give everyone interested a chance to be heard.

Representatives from the Hartford Fire Insurance Company and Citizens for City Living will present information on the proposed redevelopment of McLean Gardens, so that FBA members may determine whether the Association wishes to take a position on the plan.

CAPITAL HIKING CLUB'S SUMMER PREVIEW

June, July, August - 1971

If you can't afford an expensive vacation this year, discover Capital Hiking Club's deluxe one-day trips—"Always on Sunday." The Club will visit Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware with hiking and swimming, or just relaxing in the sun. In addition to several beach trips, a tow path hike, a hike along the Bluff Trail in the Shenandoah National Park to see late-blooming spring flowers (June 6), and visits to several state parks are planned.

Spend your Sundays with Capital, the friendly hiking club. Call 337-8963 or 521-9448 for a free copy of the Club's summer schedule (after 7 P.M.).

DAVIS NEW AMBASSADOR TO CHILE

Former Foggy Bottom resident Nathaniel Davis, for the past two and one half years U.S. Ambassador to Guatemala, will be the new Ambassador to Chile.

Mr. Davis is being named to replace Ambassador Edward M. Korry, according to stories in The Washington Post and The Evening Star, because he is considered particularly expert in handling sensitive political situations. This will not be Mr. Davis' first assignment in Chile--he was a Peace Corps representative there in the agency's early days.

He has also served as a foreign service officer in Russia, and was U.S. Ambassador to Bulgaria.

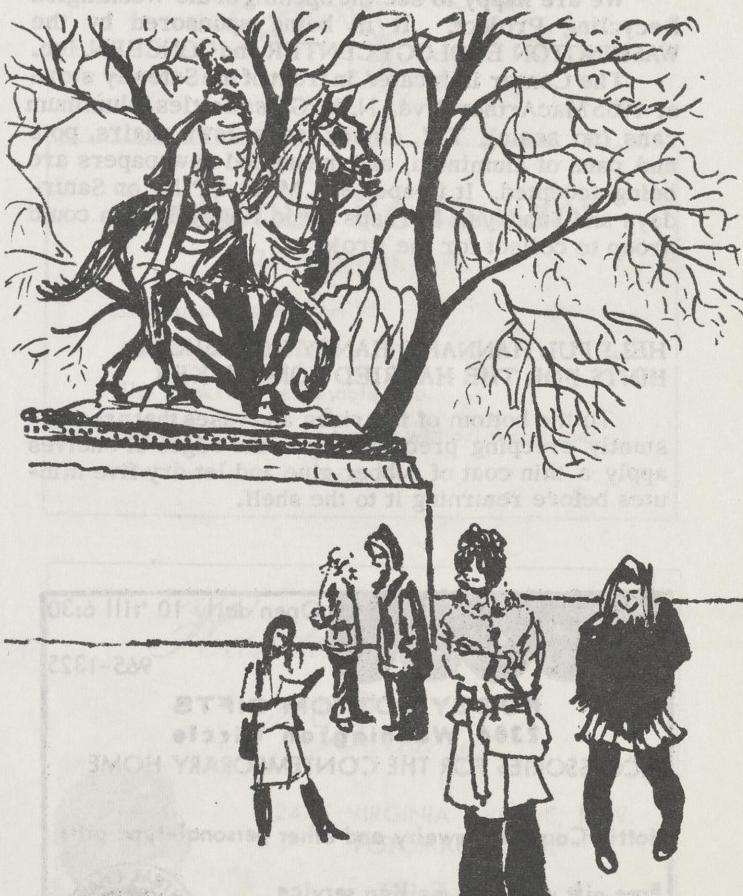

His wife is better known as former FBA treasurer Liz Davis.

LAST MEETING

Diana H. Josephson, Assistant Director of the Field Operations Division, Office of Community Services, D.C. Government, addressed the April meeting of the Foggy Bottom Association. She discussed the Service Area System, and outlined some of the reasons for its inception: The various city agencies had established their own area breakdowns of the city, with little consideration of what boundaries were being used by other agencies. Also, the agencies were often unacquainted with each others' functions, and therefore were not coordinating their activities as efficiently as

YOU ARE THE SOLUTION TO POLLUTION

The following suggestions have been "lifted" almost bodily from the News Letter of the D.C. Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Do-It-Yourself-Ecology -- Part I

Recycling: The average American throws away over 5 pounds of trash and garbage each day. To collect and dispose of this solid waste costs $4.5 billion each year.

HINTS:

Don't buy non-biodegradable containers (or, if that's all that is available, tell the manager you object).

Buy, whenever possible, returnable bottles (milk, soft drinks, beer, etc.). RETURN THEM.

Take your own shopping bag to market or store, place your purchases in it (refuse the bags), and so reduce the amount of paper consumed.

Share a magazine subscription with a friend.

Use aluminum foil sparingly. Often it can be reused.

Junk mail is fine for the children to write and color on.

Don't buy disposable items. Use cloth dish towels, napkins, place mats, diapers.

Use durable dishes instead of throw-aways.

What else can you add to this list?

We are happy to see the opening of the Washington Recycling Project. It is being sponsored by the WASHINGTON ECOLOGY CENTER and CONCERN, Inc.

The Center is located in front of the Safeway store at 4865 MacArthur Blvd., N.W. Glass bottles, aluminum cans (no seam), T.V. dinner trays, lawn chairs, pots and pans of aluminum, and unbundled newspapers are being accepted. It is open 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. on Saturdays and Sundays. Perhaps we in Foggy Bottom could group to collect for the Project.

EFFICIENT AND CLEAN

Which method of transportation is at once efficient and yet least harmful to the environment?

The bicycle, according to Prof. Richard A. Rice of the Transportation Research Institute at Carnegie-Mellon University. In a report prepared for the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Prof. Rice evaluated various forms of transportation in terms of the energy consumed--and waste emitted--per passenger mile.

Walking at 4 mph consumes about .1 horsepower of energy; bicycling at 10 mph consumes .15 horsepower. For the amount of energy in a gallon of gas, a man can bicycle 75 miles, a record no car can match. And, of course, the bicycle emits no poisonous residues into the environment.

The best method of mass transportation, says Prof. Rice, is the ten-car double-decker suburban train, which travels 200 passenger miles per gallon (PMPG) of fuel (computed for the average number of passengers). Next is the old-style paddle-wheel steamboat at 150 PMPG, and some types of buses at 120 PMPG. Automobiles average only 30 PMPG, jet aircraft 22, and lowest on the scale is the SST, which at its present specifications would yield only 10-15 PMPG.

By 1980, Prof. Rice predicts, we will be consuming double the 42.5 billion gallons of petroleum consumed in the early 1960's. Jet aircraft and automobiles, the least efficient methods of transportation, will account for most of the increased consumption and the attendant rise in pollution levels.

ADULT EDUCATION CENTER

The St. Stephen Martyr Adult Education Center completed its first session on May 6, and plans are now well under way for the summer session. Registration will be at the Immaculate Conception Academy, 24th and K Streets, N.W., on June 14 and 15 from 7:30 to 9:30 P.M. Classes, which are held on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30, will begin on June 21 and run for six weeks.

The center is one of nine sponsored by the Catholic Archdiocese of Washington and its main purpose is to provide English and math education up to GED level, to teach shorthand and typing to those needing these skills to obtain a better job, and to teach English to Spanish-speaking residents.

The Center could use more volunteer teachers in all areas, particularly during the summer session when many people will be on vacation. If you can help or would like further information, call 333-5151 or (after 5:00 P.M.) 965-1944.

they could. For these reasons, the Service Area Committees (SAC's) were established, and began operations last fall. They will provide the citizens an opportunity to make their views known to the Government, and provide the Government with an opportunity to learn how its programs are being received in the community.

Response of the Association to Mrs. Josephson's presentation was so enthusiastic, with many questions asked, that the representative for Service Area 9, which encompasses Foggy Bottom, has been invited to come to the next meeting to field citizen queries.

Also making a presentation to the Association was David Meade of Citizens for City Living, one of several groups that have gone on record as opposing the re-development plan for McLean Gardens presented by Fairmac Corp., a subsidiary of the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. The plan calls for a hotel, hospital, commercial space, and condominium apartments. Reasons for the organization's opposition include: increased traffic on feeder streets, loss of 2,000 moderate-priced rental units within the city, low-occupancy rates at city hotels and hospitals, and proximity of high-rises to Glover Archbold Park. Before deciding whether to support the organization, FBA will invite a representative of the Hartford Co. to address a future meeting.

FOGGY BOTTOM FARMER*WAX SCALE

If you see Scale on your neighbor's plants (drawing below) ask him if he knows how to destroy them. The first step in a three-step campaign can begin now by rubbing off and collecting the chalk-like bits of scale that enclose the eggs of the destructive insects when only a few are visible.

The second step is that of removing the most infested branches and thinning out the heavily branched shrubs to allow the penetration of the spray which, to be effective, must completely cover the trunk, branches and twigs.

Spraying with an insecticide, the most important step in the campaign, begins when the insects emerge from the Scale in the latter part of June. Invisible then, but soon enlarging to be visible, three successive sprayings can destroy them. Malathion or Diazinon (Spectracide) at two teaspoons per gallon of water completely covering the bark, branches and twigs will do it. More next month when there will be a drawing of the insect as it becomes visible and most vulnerable to spray.

by Dorth Arnold

Foggy Bottom boasts many gourmet cooks. This Moussaka was served at a recent buffet supper at the home of Catherine Stokes on Eye Street. She learned to make it from her cook when she and her husband lived in Greece.

You can buy the flat, round loaves of the chewy Armenian bread at Skenderis Greek Import store, 1612 20th Street, N.W., to serve with the Hoomis Tahini. Here you can also get Feta cheese and a variety of Greek olives. I recommend the sharp-tasting black ones with pits. This authentic Greek food shop sells that honey of a dessert, Baklava, too. You might want to offer your guests Retsina - a light dry wine flavored subtly with resin. It is particularly good with Moussaka.

One can of Progresso Chick Peas; pinch the skin off each pea--this is a bore but has to be done or it won't be smooth. Mash the peas. If you have a blender this is best. Add 2 cloves of minced garlic, 4 T. fresh lemon juice, 1 T. sesame seed oil or 2 T. olive oil, and a little salt to taste. Mix or blend well and place in a serving bowl. Pass small wedges of the Armenian bread. Spread the chick pea mixture on the bread. This is a delicious hors d'oeuvre with any meal.

*Moussaka

2 eggplants, medium size

1 lb. ground beef

3 medium onions, chopped fine

3 T. chopped parsley

2 eggs

8 T. fine bread crumbs

1 medium-sized can of tomatoes

2 T. butter

1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese

1/4 cup red wine

1. Slice and peel eggplant; broil these 1/2-inch slices on both sides until they are brown.
2. Brown onion lightly in 1 T. butter, then add beef and brown. Add wine, tomatoes, parsley, salt, pepper, and a bit of thyme. Cook over medium heat until liquid evaporates.
3. Make a white sauce from 6 T. butter, 7 T. flour, 3 cups of milk, some salt to taste, and a grind of nutmeg. Stir until it is thickened. Beat the 2 egg yolks slightly, then stir a few T. of the hot white sauce into the yolks--then gradually stir this yolk mixture into the white sauce. Add 1/4 cup of the grated cheese to sauce.
4. Beat the 2 egg whites slightly and add to the meat mixture along with 5 T. of the crumbs.

5. Grease the bottom and sides of a 2-quart casserole. Put a layer of the eggplant in the casserole, then a layer of the meat mixture, etc., ending with a layer of eggplant.
6. Pour the white sauce over the eggplant-meat mixture in the casserole. Sprinkle with more grated cheese and a few more bread crumbs.
7. Bake for 1 hour until golden brown in a 350-degree oven.

This may be made ahead and refrigerated until ready to bake.

WHO HELPS US?

Some do, some don't. Among those who do are the more than 40 volunteers who run the City Hall Complaint Center. Want to help handle some of the complaints that come in about our city government's operations? You can become a part of this vivacious, effective group if you will work one day a week, 9:30 to 2:30 Monday - Friday.

You are wanted and needed. To learn more about becoming an active volunteer, call 347-6017 between 10 and 2 Monday through Friday or write or go to room 3, District Building, 14th and E Streets, N.W., City 20004.

You'll learn but not earn. The work is fascinating.

ROOSEVELT ISLAND TRIP

Nearly 20 FBAers and friends, including former FBNews editor Bob Anderson and his wife and daughter, took the nature walk around Theodore Roosevelt Island on April 18. A National Park Service guide conducted the tour, pointing out trees and plants along the way, as well as the three major biological communities that can be seen--swamp, marsh and upland forest.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

How fortunate we are to have the Peoples Life Insurance Company as a member of our community. Even with the dirt, demolition, and destruction accompanying three projects--the Kennedy Center, the addition to the Watergate assemblage and the tearing up, widening and re-building of New Hampshire Avenue--with all this on its doorsteps the building and grounds are maintained in excellent appearance and neatness. The Kennedy Center begins to seem a little less stark with the planting of small trees and shrubs. And Watergate has at last removed the dead and withered brown stalks from the 16-odd, bowl-shaped concrete planters that rim the main entrance drive. Let's hope by the time you read this something other than the present weeds will be growing in them.

And this is the time of year to begin caring for the parkway between sidewalk and curb. Apartment house managers and most residence owners forget that this is the frame of the picture of their property. (If grass won't grow, lay bricks without mortar.)

George Washington University's medical school now a-building has apparently begun operations by having four sizable trees on H Street between 23rd and 24th amputated at ground level. Could the University compensate the community in slight measure by cleaning--and keeping clean--the pedestrian walk along 23rd Street between H and I? It is the construction debris that litters the walk.

Greenhoot, Inc. talks of a "luxury apartment house" at 25th Street and New Hampshire Avenue. Meanwhile, could they induce their tenant, PMI car park, to replace the part of the brick wall which has fallen over and lies in unsightly chunks? And, if they really mean it about the "luxury apartments," why don't they remove that large, mangy For Sale sign resting on the intact portion of the wall? I'm sure Watergate occupants would be happy to see the last of it.

The two houses on 25th Street between H and I which were vacant so long have been bought and the new owners have made them look presentable. Welcome to the Bottom you new, tidy owners. And praise and thanks to the many, many Bottomites who DO keep their property looking beautiful in spite of the thoughtlessness and the carelessness of others.

Dear Miss Wilder:

Noting the article, "GoodNeighbors", by B.T.W., in the March, 1971 issue of the Foggy Bottom News, I urge you to encourage your readers, and reporters, to complain to the local air pollution control agencies when they observe an apparent violation. When citizens see excessive smoke, such as that reported about the Elise Apartments on New Hampshire between H and I, or from any other source in the District, they should call the D.C. Air Pollution Bureau at 629-3748, or write a complaint to 25 K Street, N.E., Room 310, Washington, D.C. 20002. Excessive smoke emissions are illegal in this metropolitan area, but enforcement of the regulations will result only if citizens complain.

Very truly yours,

My friend, DWIGHT EISENHOWER, has gone,
And so has CHARLES DE GAULLE;
Now HARRY TRUMAN heads the line,
Just waiting for The Call!
These three brave men have left their marks,
On this old world of ours;
They've had their day and said their say,
To all the world's great powers!
Then here I come, not far behind,
These men of great renown;
They've run the race and fought the fight,
And laid their armors down!
"POOR RICHARD" needs our prayers today,
Much as any man I know;
No man alone should bear such load,
While on our way we go!

J. EDGAR HOOVER is no man's fool,
He sees things as they are;
He tells us what we ought to know,
And what we ought to bar.
And, alas for SPIRO AGNEW,
That man of many parts,
With matchless gift of rhetoric,
Has won so many hearts!

Now MARTHA MITCHELL takes the cake,
At times for being heard;
Her husband stands in awe of her,
But dares not say a word!

To the Editor:

The D.C. Department of Recreation Residential Camp was established in the Spring of 1970. During late August of the same year, the dining room-kitchen building burned down. There are no funds for this project, so we are seeking financial assistance in order to equip this building. The building is scheduled to be rebuilt in the early spring of 1971.

We are seeking your help in equipping the dining room and kitchen areas. The equipment and supplies needed are: dining room chairs and tables to seat 200; commercial food mixer, meat slicer, stoves, ovens, ice maker, dishwashers, sinks; freezer - 20 cubic feet; cooking utensils; forks and spoons; and a piano.

We would appreciate whatever gift or donation you can make to this worthy cause to help our inner city youths enjoy the great outdoors through camping.

Any items received will be acknowledged with a tax-deductible receipt.

WHO GOES THERE?

If one lives in Georgetown, he's a Georgetowner. It's that simple. But if he lives in Foggy Bottom, there is no such clearly recognized name. One has, instead, a variety from which to choose.

For instance, there is a Foggy Bottomite--a designation with punch, but perhaps too Freudian for some. A Foggy Bottomist sounds like an argumentative fellow, while a Foggy Bottomer would seem like a nice person to know, despite his rather traditional ways. It is not inconceivable that one who resides here could be simply an old Foggy Bottom! There might be some respectability in being a Foggy Bottoman (and an unmarried lady, a Foggy Bottomiss). Are a group of neighbors swarming around the bar during a backyard party Foggy Bees?

The search for better names will doubtless continue as long as there is a Foggy Bottom (or Smoggy Bottom, or Foggy B, or The Bottom, or etc.).

BADER MANAGER RETIRES

Mrs. Viola Frye Tucker, resident manager of The Bader Apartments at 2515 K Street, N.W., retired March 1 after 31 years of service. She came to The Bader in 1940, one year after it opened.

Mrs. Tucker plans to continue living at The Bader because, as she put it, "Foggy Bottom is the best neighborhood in the world."

As a retirement gift, tenants of The Bader presented Mrs. Tucker with a check for $575.

Born in Leesburg, Va., Mrs. Tucker was graduated from the Leesburg Academy. She came to Washington before World War I. In 1911 she married Frederick H. Tucker, a chemist. They lived in New York City, Tallulah, La., and Harkdale, Miss. She returned to Washington after the death of her husband in 1939.

Mrs. Tucker has a son, Capt. Frederick B. Tucker (USN Ret.), who lives in Hartford, Conn., with his two children.
